Abstract: We are going to make a website for the scrap. Company can sell all type's of scrap on this platform. In this, company upload the scrap with image and some description about that scarp and also price of that. After the uploading the scrap company will give 10 days to scrap dealer to bidding only one time , But in this period another company can't see the bidding price of another company. After that company select winner which have higher price and sell that scrap.
